1. Allergy – In TBA we do not believe the allergy is the root issue, but the symptom, or reaction, of the real issue. This vial indicates that the body is suffering from an allergic reaction, which is defined by an inability to digest, metabolize or otherwise interact harmonically with the ‘item’, which is why a person has an allergic reaction. Keep in mind that there are many allergies that give you little external evidence, which is often referred to as a metabolic allergy. Even a sub-acute reaction, happening at cell level, is causing toxicity though. To find the cause of an allergy, track Allergy to the other DCA’s to rule out other toxins as the cause. If it is not a DCA, it may be a food or beverage (track to Allergy/Vector kit for that), a nutrient (nutrition kit) or even a stress response, which should show under Emotional / Spiritual but may also show under Bach Flowers. It may also be a person or location, such as where the person works, or even a chemical (medication, lotion). The more specific you can be in identifying the allergy, the better the remedy will be and the more accurate any allergy elimination protocol you use will be. This vial can also be used to identify general allergies: hold the vial as you test various allergy vials you may have. Or if a person has a really weak organ, hold the vial for that organ, add the Allergy vial to your hand and again check the foods vials. This will tell you if any food will cause extra stress to that organ you are trying to heal.
  2. Bacteria – shows general signs of bacteria or the toxins they produce (neurotoxins, endotoxins, exotoxins anatoxin, etc), the specific Bacteria or their toxins can be identified from the Bacteria kit.
  3. Bite/sting – this vial may come up automatically during testing, or you can use it to TL a spot that may appear to be bite/sting related. Track this vial to the exact answer you seek in the A/Vector kit. The vials with red would be the ones you would test first to try and find what kind of bite or sting is involved. The vials in red are the most common in a typical bug bite or insect sting. These vials do not include canine (dog), scorpion, snake and others that are more obvious upon observation of the bite/sting location. If you suspect one of these, find the appropriate vials.

4. Chemical – indicates that some unnatural or toxic chemical is interfering with the body's ability to heal. You can look for what chemical that might be in the Chemical kit.
5. Fungus – this vial represents all forms of fungus, mold, mildew, mycotoxin and prions. To find out exactly which one or ones of those may be causing the issue, please go to the Fungus kit.
6. Injection – this vial indicates that the brain remembers the issue or toxin connected to an injection. In this case it is not detailing the item in the injection, rather the trauma of the injection itself, ie, the penetration of skin. You can take this vial and track it to other DCA's to see what else the body remembers/associates with vaccine (perhaps a chemical preserving agent, or maybe a metal toxin, perhaps a bacteria like Pertusis from the DPT shot?). Likewise, if you find something like Tetanus or measles in your testing, you can track it back to this vial to see if the origin of that toxin was injection / vaccine. Don't forget injection sources like the dentist and giving blood, tattoos, even acupuncture! The body was never intended to be injected, the brain generally perceives that as trauma.
7. Metals means there may be one or more heavy metal toxins responsible for the issue. A heavy metal is a non-organic product or by-product accumulated in the body. It may be from vaccine preservatives, perhaps rods, plates or screws implanted into the body, even foods and certain environments and jobs expose people to many metals. In addition, the body can do get toxic and begin robbing electrons and create its own heavy metals. You may track it to the Metals Kit to get more specific information.
8. Parasite – a parasite is described as anything that needs a host to survive, but that would include virus, bacteria and some fungus forms (known as microparasites). This vial represents macroparasites, or forms a bit larger than 'micro' including protozoa, amoeba, roundworms (nematodes), tapeworms (cestode) and flukes (trematodes). You may use the Parasite kit to find exactly what kind of parasite may be the issue.
9. Virus indicates the problem is of viral origin. You can go to the Virus kit if you want to find out specifically which virus it is.
10. Emf-cosmic rays compose a large part of natural background radiation on Earth. Solar winds (flares) are the primary source of cosmic ray activity. These were never supposed to have a negative effect on human life but nuclear bomb testing and creations such as HAARP on earth have deteriorated the green house effect enough that these rays now affect us. The primary disruption for humans occurs in protons, atomic nuclei, or electrons. This means that they can affect a cell just like a free radical does. Lithium, beryllium, boron scandium, titanium, vanadium and magnesium ions are just a few of the elements affected by cosmic radiation. In theory, any element on the periodic table can be affected by cosmic radiation and the human body is composed of specific ratios and combinations of those elements. Anything causing disruption is a toxic source. If this vial comes up, track it to the Metals Kit to have an idea of what elements are being disrupted (lithium, boron, helium, etc.) Track what you find back to the DCA's and you should get an idea as to what is allowing the body to become disrupted. Also consider wearing a body EMF shield. NOTE: cosmic rays can be radioactive, you may need to look at that protocol as well.
11. Emf-geopathic stress describes ley lines, or energy centers along the earth that create disrupted energy patterns. This can be from tectonic plate shifting, heavy electrical power lines, transformers, the way electrical wires criss cross through your home and even the fung shui created by home designs and general energy centers in a person's life. The personal body shield is recommended if this vial comes up. On a deeper level, look at heart fulfillment in one's purpose on earth (fulfilling your calling or destiny), and showing love rather than judgment. I believe it is the energy output of the heart's intention that allows Geopathic stress and feng shui to allow negative effect. To learn more about what this vial represents, research Geopathic Stress and Feng Shui.

12. Emf-radioactive was included to represent particles damaging enough to detach electrons from atoms and molecules (ionizing radiation). Once this happens the cell is damaged and enough cells with this damage lead to mutation, radiation sickness, cancer and death. Radioactive particle sources include: x-rays, CAT scans, air port luggage scanners, crystallography, certain industrial inspections, particle generators, and of course, exposure to nuclear elements or nuclear fallout. You hear of names like Uranium, Plutonium, iodine-131, cesium-137, cobalt-60, radium-226, etc., but more than 40 of the elements found in the Metals Kit are known to become radioactive. Track this vial to Metals Kit to find what elements need to be remedied. Add fairly high doses of IC-2 as well as D3 and some source of iodine, perhaps Lugol's iodine to help release the accumulated radioactive particles and block the body from acquiring more.
13. Emf-wireless represents the world of technology. I used the word wireless because the more people that go wireless and "convenient" with technology, the more this EMF issue seems to stand out. Wireless includes Bluetooth devices, wireless routers/internet (WiFi and WLAN), cell phones, remote controls, two way radios, wireless security systems, wireless video cameras, baby monitors, smart meters (on your electric meter). But this vial also represents EMF fields in general, which are emitted by any oscillating current, which is anything with a motor, really, but of most concern would be computers, video display monitors, TV's, fluorescent lamps and the alarm clock by your bed. The body was never designed to be exposed to these fields but it affects some people much more than others. Those most affected would be dehydrated people, people with neurological weakness, not enough good fats, don't take time to ground, meditate and pray, or those simply saturated in technology all day. A body shield is highly recommended as well as correction of whatever you find to be contributing from the list mentioned (fats, water, etc.)
14. Injury-sprain/strain: strain is generally to the muscles, sprain is to the connective tissue.
15. Injury- scar tissue can be the result of an old wound, surgery, accident or inflammation in the body for extended amount of time. One example of excessive internal formation of scar tissue is a common complication that occurs in breast augmentation patients, known as capsular contracture. Keloids and hypertrophic scars are examples of excessive scar tissue formation, which happens externally.
16. Injury- nerve damage is generally from severe trauma, more often from invasive surgery procedure or even dental procedures, but physical injuries that cause enough trauma to damage nerves, neuronal axons, myelin sheath, etc. This vial covers the three levels of nerve damage: Neurapraxia, Axonotmesis, Neurotmesis.
17. Injury- mesentery holds organs in place and contains much of the blood supply to organs; primarily holding the intestines in place, and the female reproductive parts.
18. Miasm-M (came from the Male-father's side) tells you that the issue has passed through genetic memory in the cellular make-up. This is a generational issue, often passing through several generations, it does not necessarily mean the direct parent was the cause as they may have carried it from one of their parents (generally because the issue was present and uncorrected in the parent for 16 years before the birth of the offspring in question). This represents a predisposition for a weakness, meaning the corrupted energy is present but the issue is not genetic in terms of having changed chromosome pairing. This option would cover what some consider past life trauma, but is more accurately defined as genetic memory from the father. You can track this vial to A&P so see what system or function is holding this energy. Miasmatic issues are often carried in connection to an old emotion, so tracking to the Emotional Vials or Bach Flowers may shed more light on it. Combine any information you get there with the emotion connected to the system this vial tests to and you have a good idea.

- 19. Miasm—F (came from the Female-mother's side) tells you that the issue has passed through genetic memory in the cellular make-up. This is a generational issue, often passing through several generations, it does not necessarily mean the direct parent was the cause as they may have carried it from one of their parents (generally because the issue was present and uncorrected in the parent for 16 years before the birth of the offspring in question). This represents a predisposition for a weakness, meaning the corrupted energy is present but the issue is not genetic in terms of having changed chromosome pairing. This option would cover what some consider past life trauma, but is more accurately defined as genetic memory from the mother. You can track this vial to A&P so see what system or function is holding this energy. Miasmatic issues are often carried in connection to an old emotion, so tracking to the Emotional Vials or Bach Flowers may shed more light on it. Combine any information you get there with the emotion connected to the system this vial tests to and you have a good idea.
- 20. Mutation—acquired occur at some time during a person's life. They can be caused by radiation, viruses, transposons and mutagenic chemicals, as well as errors that occur during meiosis or DNA replication. They can also be induced by the organism itself, by cellular processes such as hypermutation. The Y chromosome is passed exclusively through sperm, which undergo multiple cell divisions during gametogenesis. Each cellular division provides further opportunity to accumulate base pair mutations. Additionally, sperm are stored in the highly oxidative environment of the testis, which encourages further mutation. These two conditions combined put the Y chromosome at a risk of mutation 4.8 times greater than the rest of the genome.
- 21. Mutation—hereditary (they are present in the egg and sperm cells) represents Aneuploidy, which is an abnormal number of chromosomes. Extra or missing chromosomes is a common cause of birth defects (genetic disorders). This vial represents mitochondrial (leber's hereditary optic neuropathy), Y-chromosome linked (male infertility), X-chromosome linked (hemophilia A, Duchenne muscular dystrophy, Lesch-Nyham syndrome, Turner syndrome, Rett syndrome, incontinentia pigmenti type 2 and Aicardi syndrome) and autosomal (Familial hypercholesterolemia, Polycystic kidney disease, Neurofibromatosis type 1, Hereditary spherocytosis, Marfan syndrome, Huntington's disease, sickle-cell anemia, cystic fibrosis, Tay-Sachs disease, Phenylketonuria, Glycogen storage disease, Galactosemia, hereditary nonpolyposis colorectal cancer, hereditary multiple exostoses, , Niemann-Pick disease, spinal muscular atrophy, and Roberts syndrome). Modern medicine blames many things on genetics, but most of those issues are caused by toxins (DCA) in the parents. If this vial comes up in a pregnant woman, track it to 25 (female) to assure it is not in the development of the fetus. If it TL high to 25, track it back to DCA's to find out what the cause of it is.
- 22. Waste, metabolic are substances left over from excretory processes. Either natural excretion and elimination of internally generated poisons (remember each cell is like a generator, while it makes energy, waste product is created as well), or toxin production from replication of microbes like bacteria. Substances to look for include the nitrogen compounds through which the very toxic nitrogen is eliminated from the organism (ammonia, urea and uric acid). All of these substances are product from the protein metabolism and generally mean that not enough water is being consumed to eliminate internal waste. Other substances include: water, CO<sup>2</sup>, phosphates, sulfates, insoles, medicals, food additives etc. Nitrates and nitrites are wastes produced by nitrifying bacteria, just as sulfur and sulfates are produced by sulfur bacteria. Insoluble iron waste can be made by iron bacteria by using soluble forms. If this vial comes up, check it against the kidney. If TL strong, need more water. Check it against the liver to see if it is other by-products like medicals, additives, etc. You can check it against the DCA microbes to see if it is a toxin group making the waste in its replication cycle. If so, detox it!

23. Emotional - this vial was created to represent the following (and original TBA vials).

E-1 Psychosomatic This vial means there is an area the physical body cannot forgive and forget. This vial comes up when the person is allowing previous hurts or old, negative tendencies to over-ride the ability to make new pathways, or change previous pathways. To understand the art and ability of making new pathways, refer to Healing the Broken Brain, by Elden M. Chalmers. Test this vial against the A&P master vials and cross reference the emotion of that system to find out more specific information as to what the emotion might be or what area of your life it might be in. You may want to track this vial to the other emotional (E) vials to get more specific information about the area in question (experience, location, etc.).

E-2 Past trauma This vial would indicate that there is a past hurt in your life that has settled in the tissues of your physical body and is interfering with normal actions or functions. To get an idea of what it may be, track this vial to the A&P master vials and refer to the emotional patterns or tendencies for the indicated system. You need to support the area harboring the emotion and track the vials found in that system to the Bach Flower remedies. Make a remedy of the A&P and add the Bach Remedies to it. While you are taking the remedies, be sure to forgive the person or situation that caused the hurt so it does not progress into a spiritual problem. You may get more specific information by tracking this to “E3 – E5”.

E-3 Experience –stress This vial indicates that a situation or experience created an extreme stress to your physical body. It might have been a party at work, perhaps a funeral, a car accident, maybe a job situation or a business deal that went sour. Track this vial to the A&P master vials then to the Bach Flower remedies. Make the remedy with the remedy maker and then put the appropriate Bach Flowers in the remedy as well. Psychologically speaking, learn to view negative experiences or stressful experiences as times for growth.

E-4 Person -stress This vial tells us that a person, perhaps at work, perhaps spouse or other family member, is the source of the emotional stress/trauma. Track this vial to the A&P master vials then to the Bach Flower remedies. Make the remedy with the remedy maker and then put the appropriate Bach Flowers in the remedy as well. Psychologically speaking, realize that every person is only a byproduct of all the accumulated hurts in their life. Some people don't know how to be any different. You don't have to like them or be around them, but you don't need to let it effect you negatively or cause you stress. They need your love too.

E-5 Location -stress This vial tells us that a location is the source of the problem. You can look to work, home, school, or any location as a source of the stress. Track this vial to the A&P master vials then to the Bach Flower remedies. Make the remedy with the remedy maker and then put the appropriate Bach Flowers in the remedy as well. Psychologically speaking, you have a couple of choices. Either remove yourself from the location causing the stress or view the stress at your location in a different way so you won't feel stressed about it. If the place you are in is dead end or you are unhappy, create an attainable goal that will put you in a location that makes you happy. If you can't do anything about your location, change the way you look at it so you won't feel stress. Find something good about the location and focus on it. Are you helping people? Are you making good money? Is it an investment into the children (stay home mom)?

E-6 Self -stress            If this vial comes up, you are your own worst enemy. Track this vial to the A&P master vials then to the Bach Flower remedies. Make the remedy with the remedy maker and then put the appropriate Bach Flowers in the remedy as well. Psychologically speaking, you probably set standards too high for yourself and then feel failure when you don't achieve them. You need to find self love and self worth. You need to realize that God loves you despite all the failure. Chill out and calm down. Take time to live, to have fun, to feel success and failure so that you can learn from both. If you can't appreciate mistakes, you can't learn from them and improve yourself and this will eventually lead to severe depression and hopelessness.

E-7 Sympathy related        This vial indicates you have a big heart. Track this vial to the A&P master vials then to the Bach Flower remedies. Make the remedy with the remedy maker and then put the appropriate Bach Flowers in the remedy as well. Psychologically speaking, you need to understand that taking on everyone else's pain does not help them, but it destroys your health and feeds their problem. You must learn to do what you can to help and leave the rest to God. Sympathy dwells on negativity rather than the positive aspects. Help those you feel sympathy for by talking about all the good things in their life, but make sure you are doing this in your own life as well. This won't give you or the other person time to sympathize.

24. Spiritual – this vial was created to represent the following (and original TBA vials).

S-1 Volition                    Volition is power of the will; will power. Will is the ability to remain disciplined (make the right decision) despite emotional feelings (anger, hate, jealousy, bitterness, etc.) If there is any emotion that over rides your will, meaning you cannot remain in control of your emotions and feelings, you have allowed an emotional problem to become a spiritual problem. This is volition. You need to talk to God about the emotions you are feeling, but you must learn to discipline yourself in this matter. When you feel depression, anger, self pity, violence, the desire for pornography, drugs or alcohol or anything that is not positive and uplifting, make yourself busy or make the decision to rise above it. If you do not, you have a problem with volition and you will have to talk to God about forgiveness in that area. If volition has been a problem and you cannot overcome it or have things in your past you have not resolved with God, you may need to counsel with someone you trust on a spiritual level to help identify the root, or door, that was opened in your life. You can track this vial to the A&P master vials to see what system or systems are involved. This will give you a good idea of what the area is (liver=anger, kidney=fear, heart=lack of love, gallbladder=resentment, etc). Workshop 02 includes more information in this area.

S-2 Transgression –present        This vial indicates you are sinning against one of God's laws or your own conscience and you need to ask for forgiveness and stop the act of transgression. Transgression against your own conscience can only be known by each individual, but transgression against God would be anything God has told you the individual not to do. This includes everything from personal conviction to the ten commandments: killing, hating, stealing, adultery, coveting (desiring what is not yours), etc. Stop what you are doing and ask God to forgive you. Make sure you also forgive yourself. NOTE: This only works if you are repented.

S-3 Transgression -past This vial indicates you have sinning against one of God's laws or your own conscience in the past and you have not asked for forgiveness or resolved those previous transgressions. Transgression against your own conscience can only be known by each individual, but transgression against God would be anything God has told you the individual not to do. This includes everything from personal conviction to the ten commandments: killing, hating, stealing, adultery, coveting (desiring what is not yours), etc. Ask God to forgive you and make sure you forgive yourself. Transgressions are often against our own conscience and we don't allow forgiveness for ourselves. This is very important.

S-4 Curse Curses can be the result of being involved in ritualistic practices (usually of occult nature). Voodoo, black magic, spells, trances, even hypnotherapy can create or allow curses on you. They can also form if someone has malice towards you and you are not protected from evil doers who would wish you harm. You may need to council with someone you trust on a spiritual level to correct this problem. Track this vial to the parts of the body (A&P) that are being effected by the curse and you will have a good idea what area of your life might be negatively effected by it.

S-5 Person This vial indicates that there is a person having a negative spiritual influence on you. Some people harbor extreme negative energy and if your own is not positively stronger, you will be pulled down. This person is very likely overpowering your free will and forcing you consciously or through mental manipulation. Avoid that person or find a way to release the negative hold they have on you. Find your own free will.

S-6 Place This vial would indicate that a place or location that you are at or that you go to is opening the door for spiritual problems. The place is an extreme negative influence on you and you need to avoid it.

S-7 Item This vial indicates that there is an item in your life that is opening the door to a spiritual problem. It could be music, a piece of furniture, a painting, something someone gave you, etc. Look for symbols that appear evil (demons, eyes that watch you, hateful faces, ghosts, goblins, vampires, aliens, mythological creatures), violent (skulls, bones, weapons) or religious (angels, crosses, etc.)

- 25. Herx – people often get what most know as the healing crisis from various programs. You may make a remedy and the person says they now feel flue-like, have a head ache, etc. This vial represents the “Herxheimer reaction” or the healing crisis. Now you have a way of knowing if the person has another issue going on or if the body is simply overwhelmed trying to rid the toxins it was asked to deal with. Remember a Herx reaction is nothing more than more detox than the elimination channels can handle. So either back off the program, or help the body with ... a coffee enema perhaps?
- 26. Benign – represents a growth or tumor which does not have the ability to metastasize (spread to other parts of the body via the blood or lymph system). Some growths, like a teratoma, can start as non-malignant and progress toward malignancy so keep growths monitored. They may show benign at the moment but change down the road if not enough is being done to eliminate the cause of the issue.
- 27. MAL – represents cancer or the possibility that cells have become malignant. This is represented by three main internal signs .. cells are undergoing uncontrollable growth, cells are destroying adjacent tissue, or cells may spread (metastasize) to other tissues via the blood or lymph system. Remember that you may pick up an issue that is sub-clinical, or the body shows it in TBA testing long before medicine will find it if it is in preliminary stages. This vials means “cells are corrupted” and doing one or all three of the mentioned phases.

- 28. +POS – represents that the item or substance will have a positive effect on the body. This vial is useful for testing products, supplements, or anything desired to see if the effect will have a positive rather than negative or no effect at all. TBA uses a sliding scale of 0-10, with 0 being no value in this case and 10 being of extremely positive or ‘therapeutic’ value. If you have tested a substance or medication or whatever with this vial and find it very good, you can further track it to the A&P vials to see exactly what parts of the body will be getting the most positive effect.
- 29. –NEG – represents that the item or substance will have a negative effect on the body. This vial is useful for testing products, supplements, or anything desired to see if the effect will have a negative rather than positive or no effect at all. TBA uses a sliding scale of 0-10, with 0 being no value in this case and 10 being of extremely hazard (-10). If you have tested a substance or medication or whatever with this vial and find that substance harmful, you can further track it to the A&P vials to see exactly what parts of the body will gain the most harm. This is helpful in cases where a medication needs to be used so you might add an herb or supplement to support the system/s that are most effected according to the test.
- 30. Primary – this vial was created to help identify THE most important issue, or that issue that is most threatening to human health at the time. It bypasses the symptomology and goes to the cause of the problem. Because most health assessment is based on either nutrition or system dysfunction or toxin build-up, or worst, symptom based, this vial includes all of these and allows the user to identify what the body (or brain that is continually monitoring the body) considers to be the most pressing, or primary issue.
